

My name is Danya Tambunan, I am currently completing my master in Special Needs Education in University of Oslo. As you can see from my CV, since I was doing my bachelor I had been an active participant in many community groups or organizations. The reason behind this was I would like to challenge myself to give back to the community as much as I could do, while at the same time practicing leadership and organizational skills.

I first heard about ISU from one of their event, and I knew immediately that it is going to be the community where I will grow both as a person and a citizen of international community. Being involved in ISU-UiO for a few months made me realize of how rich international community there are in the university. And this diversity can be stimulated towards the creation of integration across multicultural. So I decided to pursue a more challenging position, with more responsibilities and things that I can learn.

I would like to apply for the position as Union Development Officer. After reading the responsibilities a Union Development has, I am confident to take the responsibility. By establishing network among other universities in Norway, it can help spread the spirit of integration among international students around Norway.

I have eyes to see opportunity, hands to work and offer help, legs to walk further towards the goals, ears to listen, and most importantly a humble heart that understand the struggles international students face in Norway and the same heart that wants to do something about it.

Being involved in an international community has always been my dream. Meeting with people across the world, hearing their inspiring stories, sharing each other fascinating culture, inspired by their dreams to create a multicultural society while still being proud of their own cultural identity. It is what drives me to be part of International Student Union.
